SEALED COMMUNICATIONS REGARDING ALASKA FISHERIES.

A Young Lady of Russia Imprisoned by her Uncle, who Fraudulently Secures her Fortune—Gladstone is Greatly Improved in Health.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The British steamer West Indian, which is engaged in Pacific Coast trade, and which has been trying to get a crew for the past 10 days, was boarded at the Mission Street wharf to-day by a crowd of union sailors, who drove off six non-union sailors. Captain Scott and Mate Lock attempted armed resistance, but were obliged to desist. Several people were injured by flying lumps of coal. Captain Scott said he would procure warrents for the arrest of all the prominent members of the Coast Seamen's Union, from the secretary down.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 22.—Everything to-day points to an early ending of the coke strike. The strikers are weakening, and big brakes in their ranks are reported from various places in the region. The men were dissatisfied with the results of the convention last night, and decided to go to work.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—It is a very significant fact that while the Order of Railway Conductors decided to federate, the convention took no steps looking to the accomplishment of that question, and no application has been made. The order, it is stated, seeks to become a member without making application, so that if it should, at any time, become dissatisfied with the federation, it can withdraw and say the officers had no right to federate. The officers decline to discuss the matter.

A Russian Romance.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 23.—A story with all the element of a romance has come to light through the prosiac medium of the court records at Minsk. Some time ago Baron Arthur Mashewski di d, leaving a fortune of over a million roubles to his brother Narzis Mashewski. The baron had originally made a will bequeathing three-fourths of his property to his natural daughter, Maria. A few years ago, however, Narzis informed his brother that Maria had died while visiting his estate, and he produced a certificate of death in corroboration of his statement. This news caused the baron to alter his will and he made Narzis his sole heir. After the baron's death, it transpired through accident that Maria was still living, but that she had been imprisoned by Narzis and kept from all communication with the world. A friend of the unfortunate girl discovered her whereabouts and forced Narzis to release her. She at once applied to the courts for redress, and a decree has been issued restoring her to her rights in her father's estate.

An Unlucky Ship.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. — Advices from Calcutta have been received at the Merchants Exchange stating that the American ship Kenilworth took fire at that port, while leaving for New York, and her cargo on board was ruined by fire and water. The ship escaped with little damage. The Kenilworth will be remembered as one of the British ships lying at Port Costa, which was very badly damaged about two years ago, during a big fire at McNear's grain warehouse, and which was sold and nearly rebuilt at this port, resulting in her flying the American flag. Shortly after the disaster by flames was followed by two fatalities when the ship was undergoing loading. Wet wheat in her hold generated gas, which killed two surveyors, the moment they encountered it. On the following Sunday the ship's long boat was carried under a barge in the bay in the tide and the mate, an apprentice and a seaman were drowned.

Behring Sea Question.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—Communications have arrived at the custom house in this city, intended for use of the Government's representatives in Alaska during the sealing season, but they are sealed, and are supposed to contain instructions. A ripple of interest was occasioned this forenoon by the story that the Farallone, which cleared on the 15th, had sailed for Alaska with the Government's representatives and the agent of the North America Canning Company on board. This proved to be untrue, but it was thought probable that the Farallone will sail very soon, and that the Rush will soon proceed. Orders to the captain of the Rush will probably be sealed and not opened until the vessel is out at sea. There is much interest in the matter of the course mapped out by the Government this year, in view of the many reports concerning the condition of the seal fisheries.

Italians Going Home.

ROME, May 23.—Italian emigrants to America are returning home in such numbers as to alarm the government, in view of the fact that nearly every one of those who arrive is entirely destitute. Prime Minister Rudini has instructed the Italian consuls to persuade the country people who wish to return home that it would be better for them to go elsewhere in America than to come back in a destitute condition, as they will find their former places filled and the labor market frightfully overstocked.

A Government Success.

NEW YORK, May 23.—A dispatch to the Herald from Iquiqui via Galveston, says: The government steamers Imperial, Almirante, Condell and Sargento Aldea, landed two hundred men in Taltall on Friday and stormed the custom house. That place is now in the hands of the government forces and the old regime has been established.

A Parnellite Envoy Hopeful.

CHICAGO, May 22.—William Redmond, one of the Parnellite envoys, is in the city. He predicts that Parnell will again be restored to the leadership of the United party, brought together by the surrender of the McCarthyites. It is not a question, said Redmond, of morals or religion, but of politics. The opposition of the priests will have very little effect, he thinks.

The Immigration Problem.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—Secretary Foster has appointed a commission composed of ex-Congressman Grosvenor, of Ohio; Dr. Walter Kempster, the noted expert on insanity, and R. Powderly, brother of T. V. Powderly, to proceed to Europe and investigate the immigration problem.

Fever at Malta.

LONDON, May 23.—Fever is raging at Malta, and an average of forty officers and men of each of the vessels of the British fleet are prostrated with the desease. Malta hospitals are already terribly overcrowded by the unceasing influx of patients.

The Empress of Japan.

HONGKONG, May 23.—The Empress of Japan arrived at Hongkong to-day, sharp on time. She will remain here until Tuesday, second of June, before starting on her mail route between Shanghai, Japanese ports and Vancouver.

Blaine Will Go to Maine.

NEW YORK, May 22. — Secretary Blaine rested comfortably last night, and this morning was somewhat easier. If the weather permits, in a day or two he will be taken out for a drive, and strong enough will then go to Maine.

Gladstone Himself Again.

LONDON, May 23.—Mr. Gladstone arrived at Hawarden to-day, none the worse for his journey, and drove in an open carriage to the rectory.

General Raum Has Not Resigned.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—General Raum to-night emphatically denied that he had tendered his resignation to the President.

OPIUM SCHOONER HALCYON.

Said to be Lying in a Cove on the Vancouver Island Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, MAY 22.—The mysterious yacht Halcyon and her reported cargo of opium are engaging the attention of custom house officials. It is said she has been seen at Victoria, B.C., while her owner claims she is elsewhere, a thousand miles away, on the high seas. It is probable, however, that she is in the Northwest and intends to coast from British American waters, and land whenever she can. Portions of the $100,000 opium cargo are said to be aboard her. By this method of coastwise smuggling she is enabled to elude the Government cutters of Canada and the United States. Local customs authorities say they do not intend to send after her, as they are short of men and facilities to make a successful patrol of the coasts of Oregon and Washington, but they do intend to keep her from landing on California soil if possible.

A JURY BROUGHT TO TERMS

Judge Moore, of Spokane, Imprisons Them and They Soon Agree.

SPOKANE, May 22.—Superior Judge Moore gave an obdurate jury a taste of old English law this morning, and they returned a verdict in short order. The jury which had been considering the case of Frank Stedry, charged with highway robbery, had been out twenty-four hours, when Judge Moore called them in and asked if they had reached a verdict. They had not, and he ordered them back in the jury jury room to remain until they reached a verdict. He also instructed the bailiff not to give them anything to eat until they had found a verdict of guilty or not guilty. In ten minutes thereafter the jury returned a verdict finding the prisoner guilty as charged. Stedry's attorneys attorney's protested against this method of forcing the jury to come to a verdict, and took exception. Judge Moore said that while the law was little used at present, it was a practice in old English law that never had been repealed. He said that when juries became obstinate in a case where the course was clear he would adopt any measure allowed by law to make them agree upon a verdict. Stedry's attorneys will test the question and settle it for all time. Notice of a motion for a new trial was given.

FROM OTTAWA

Bulky Evidence in the McGreevy Scandal—Mr. Gordon is Severe on Magistrates.

OTTAWA, May 23.—Part of the papers in the McGreevy scandal case have at last been received by the Clerk of the Committee on privileges and election, they having arrived at noon to-day. Another large trunk filled with documents arrived from the Quebec Harbor Commission to-day, which makes three trunks full in all.

Among the correspondence relating to the sending of C Battery to Wellington is a letter from Mr. Gordon, M.P., in which he refers to the magistrates who signed the requisition as a "triumvirate of scoundrels." The Adjutant-General recommends that in future magistrates responsible for calling out troops be required to accompany them to the place where their service is supposed to be required.

The British Columbia members interviewed the Premier on the Nicola & and B. C. Southern, and asked for a subsidy. Col. Baker accompanied the delegation. Sir John promised to take it under his "serious consideration," but held out little hope that any assistance would be given.

Mr. Earle has in charge a bill giving the Victoria & North American Railway Company power to construct a railway and ferry, and Mr. Prior has introduced a bill to extend the time for beginning construction on the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway.

VICTORIA'S CELEBRATION

THE OPENING EVENTS ON THE FIRST DAY'S SPORTS.

Glorious Queen's Weather—Large Number of Visitors from the Sound and Mainland — Proceedings at Beacon Hill this Forenoon—Monday's Sports.

Victoria knows how to celebrate, and she never does it half-heartedly. The generosity of her citizens provides the "sinews of war," the weather is always auspicious, and the "park" and "arena" are never more inviting than in the month of May, when the trees are robeing themselves in fresh mantles, and the earth has just been carpetted anew. The attractions provided by the committees of citizens who take the celebrations in hand are being constantly added to, and now two days are required where one formerly sufficed. The number of visitors on these gala days are annually increasing, and this year our city will welcome more pleasure-seekers from the Sound cities and from the Mainland than ever before. All the steamers arriving on Friday evening were crowded, while a much larger number will arrive to-night. Every visitor is welcome, and it is the duty of every good citizen to make all strangers feel completely at home during their stay in Victoria.

Never has Beacon Hill Park looked as well as it did this morning, when thousands of spectators, anxious to see the opening game of the celebration, the baseball match between the Colts of Port Townsend and the Amities of this city. The game was announced for 9:30, and by that time there was an excited crowd, about evenly divided as friends of the two teams, scattered about the park, but principally around the ball field. The weather was all that could be wished for, not a cloud being visible on the sky, while a cool breeze from across the straits counteracted the heat of the sun. The Victoria boys hardly expected to win the game, but from the start it was a certainty that they were not going to let it go by default. Robinson pitched a good game for the Amities and was held well by Hannan. Meade played a faultless game at first with the exception of one error by leaving his base when he should have left the ball for second base. Widdowson on second, Franklin on third and Jackson on short stop all played well, but like the field they were badly in need of practice. Gouge made some very bad plays in centre just at a critical point of the game, which sent the Townsend's score up. When Meade exchanged places with Robinson he pitched splendidly, fanning three men out in succession. The Colts all played well, having had lots of practice, but Riederbach was not such a terror of a pitcher as a great many expected. The boys batted him badly, but the Colt's fielding made up for it, they being efficient where the Amities lacked.

At 10:30 Mr. McCrumm, of Kamloops, having been chosen umpire, game was called with the Townsend's at the bat.

FIRST INNINGS.

O'Neil went to the bat first; went to first on balls and succeeded in reaching home by a succession of steals. Smith followed suit but Lange found the ball only to knock it into Gouge's hand who caught it neatly. Riederback reached first on balls and was left there by Mathias being put out. Two runs.

Jackson went to the bat first for the Amities and knocked a fly to first which was followed by the same thing from Borthwick; Gouge made a base hit but was put out while trying to steal second. No runs.

SECOND INNINGS.

Hardy went out on a hit to first; Thomas made first and reached third on errors but was put out home. J. Reiderback struck out. No runs.

Burnell and Meade fanned out. Hannan made a base hit and reached home. Robinson also made a base hit, but was left on third by Widdowson hitting to the short stop, who put him out on first.

THIRD INNING.

O'Neil and Smith both made base hits, but only the latter reached home Lang made a three-base hit, and got home on McDonald's base hit. Reiderback also made a base hit, but was left on third by Mathias being put out on a fly and Pardee doing the same by a hit to first. Three runs.

Franklin, Jackson and Widdowsen all found the ball, but did not get it far enough out, and the inning closed as it opened.

FOURTH INNING.

The Colts did the same as the Amities did in the last, Thomas, Reiderback and O'Neil hitting the ball, but not reaching first. Again Gouge, Burnell and Meade hit the ball, but did not score, principally on account of an accident whereby Burnell sprained his ankle. Huxtable took his place.

FIFTH INNING.

Another repetition of the last two, Smith, Lange and McDonald all being put out on hits to Robinson and Jackson. In this Inning for the Amities Hannan hit to third and was put out, Robinson, doing the same by hitting to second. Widdowson made a base hit but was put out on second by Franklin hitting there. No runs for either.

SIXTH INNING.

Another inning without another run or Townsend although Riderback, Mathias, Pardee and Thomas hit the ball. The Amities did better Jackson reaching home after a two-bagger, Huxtable struck out, Borthwick made a two-bagger but was put out when Gouge knocked a fly to second.

SEVENTH INNING.

The Amities lost the game in this Inning, Gouge muffling too flies, and Widdowson allowing the ball to go through his hands. The Townsends piled up six runs.

They did not do much better at the bat, although, as usual, Hannen hit the ball, but it did not go far enough. Meade and Robinson struck out.

EIGHTH INNINGS.

Meade took the box for the Amities, and struck McDonald out, put Smith out on a hit, and Riederback went out on a fly to Franklyn. Lange was left on 2nd.

Widdowson scored for the Amities, but Franklyn, Huxtable, Jackson and Borthwick, all of whom hit the ball, did not reach home.

NINTH INNING.

Meade received what he deserved—rounds of applause from all sides striking out in succession Matthias, Pardee, and Thomas. This was the only time during the game that three men were struck out in one inning.

Hannan, Robinson, and Widdowsen all scored for the Amities, the first on a base hit the second on a three bagger and the latter on a two bagger. Gouge and Meade went out on flies and Franklin was put out a second.

The following is the official score:

Revolution in Cordoba.

LONDON, May 23.—Advices from Buenos Ayres confirm the report that a revolution had been attempted in Cordoba. The revolution is believed to have been the result of a struggle between rival factions for political control of the province. There was firing in the streets of the city of Cordoba during Thursday and yesterday, and a number of persons were killed, and wounded. Troops were sent from Buenos Ayres, which established order and the local government was restored to the hands of the legitimate authorities.

The death rate for the British Navy in 1889 was the lowest ever recorded and the number of cases of disease and injury the lowest since 1856. The ratio per 1000 was—cases, 962.72; invalided, 24.98; dead, 5.33, and daily sick, 41.51.

In an address on the Army and civil life before the Royal United Service Institution, Col. F. J. Graves, 20th Hussars, contended that there was less crime and drunkenness than ever in the British Army, and the men's conditions of life compare favorably with any of the civilian classes of unskilled labor and many of the skilled. In times of peace the rate of mortality among soldiers in this kingdom is lower than that of any ordinary working class, agriculturists possibly excepted. He endeavored to prove that a recruit is better off than almost any class of unskilled wage-earner in civil life, and, further, he has better prospects in his calling of advancement than almost any civilian wage-earner, skilled or unskilled.

RUN DOWN BY A TRAIN.

Section Foreman Tom Finnigan Killed on the E. & N. Railway.

Thos. Finnigan, a section boss on the E. & N. Railway was the victim yesterday of one of the most horrible accidents that has occurred on the E. & N. Railway. He was returning from work, accompanied by Tom Fagan and two Chinamen, on a hand car, when a special train for Nanaimo struck them. The accident occurred on the trestle-work this side of Parson's bridge at about six o'clock. Those on the hand car heard the train approaching, but thought they could get over the bridge before the train caught them. The train, however, did catch them, and the deceased just had time to jump off the hand car on to the track when the locomotive hit him. One of the Chinamen, who it is thought tried to assist Finnigan, was badly cut about the head, but Fagan and the other Chinaman escaped.

The fireman on the train saw the hand car before they reached it, and the air-brakes were put on, so that the train was going slowly when it struck the unfortunate man.

Thos. Finnigan was about 55 years of age, a trusted and much respected employee of the company, always being cautious. He leaves a wife and several children.

Of One Opinion—Victoria Recognizes True Merit.

During the visit of Professor Seward, the celebrated optician of New York, last fall, a large number of prominent ladies and gentlemen, not only of Victoria, but surrounding cities, called and had glasses adjusted to their eyesight, and now since Professor Seward's return, he finds, as he expected, the universal expression to be, "His work is the best that has ever been accomplished in Victoria." Professor Seward has been especially successful in correcting the most difficult of defective sight, also of adjusting cataract glasses and fitting artificial eyes. His stay in Victoria can only be of short duration, as he has promised on this trip to stop at Nanaimo, Vancouver and New Westminster, and at Seattle and Tacoma on the Sound, which he could not do on the last trip on account of limited time. This will be the last trip to the Pacific coast. A record of the examination and test of each patron is kept on file, and the glasses can be duplicated at any future time by addressing Prof. F. D. Seward, P.O. box 3567, New York. Office hours while in Victoria, 9 a.m to 5 p.m. Cor. Yates and Douglas streets, over drug store.

N.B.—Prof. Seward makes no charge or preliminary examination.

Legal Business Change.

A change has occurred in the personnel of the leading legal firm of Messrs. Corbould, McColl, Forin & Campbell, of this city and New Westminster, Messrs. Forin and Morrison retire from the firm and Mr. Charles Wilson, of Victoria, becomes a member of it. It is a matter of congratulation for the Mainland bar that Mr. Wilson will now be included within its ranks. Mr. A. J. McColl left for the east yesterday on a visit. He will be absent until October. It is also stated that Mr. R. H. Pringle, who has recently arrived from the east, will also join the above firm.—News-Advertiser.

What it Costs

Must be carefully considered by the great majority of people, in buying even necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparilla commends itself with special force to the great middle classes, because it combines positive economy with great medicinal power. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said "100 Doses One Dollar," and a bottle taken according to directions will average to last a month.

The Single Tax.

The single tax may relieve poverty but as a remedy for painful ailments it cannot compare with Hagyard's Yellow Oil the old reliable cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, croup, sore throat, lumbago, colds and inflammatory diseases.

THE STANDARD LIFE.

The Sixty-Fifth Annual General Meeting -- Results for the Year---A Gratifying Report

The 65th annual general meeting of the Standard Life Assurance Company was held at Edinburgh on Tuesday, the 28th of April 1891, to declare the results of the business for the past year, and to receive the report on the investigation of the company's affairs and division of surplus funds for the five years ended 15th November, 1890.

The following results for the year ended 15th November, 1890 were reported:

3390 New Proposals for Life Assurance were received during the year for	$8,770,750
3090 Policies were issued, assuring	$7,651,606
The Total Existing Assurances in force at 15th of November, 1890, amounted to	$101,635,491 inclusive of sums re-assured with other offices.
The Claims during the year amounted, including Bonus Additions, to	$3,052,006
The Annual Revenue for the year ending 15th of November, 1890, amounted to	$4,827,521
The Accumulated Funds at same date amounted to	$36,444,640 being an increase during the year of $709,650.
Invested in Canada over $6,000,000

The total surplus of the five years was found to be $3,230,350, from which, after providing for the intermediate bonus, already paid between 1887-90, and setting aside a further sum of $194,666 towards the reserve fund, which would now amount to $389,333, the following bonus was declared, giving reversionary additions to the aggregate amount of $4,934,800, viz:

To the colonial scheme a bonus at the rate of $14 per $1000 per annum, being at the same rate as the last bonus.

With an intermediate bonus at the rate of £1 per cent. per annum for policies becoming claims between 15th November, 1891, and 15th November, 1895.

It was also intimated that after this date the claims under all the company's policies would be payable immediately on proof of death and title to the satisfaction of the directors.

Directors, A. J. Langley, Esq. J. P., (chairman), A. A. Green, Esq., W. T. Livock.

The Great Consummation.

Edward Everett once said: "I never contemplate the history of navigation of the ocean by steam but it seems to illustrate to me, in the most striking manner, the slow steps by which a great movement advances for generations, for ages, from the first germ,—then when the hour is come the rapidity with which it rushes to a final consummation."

As far back as the introduction of steam navigation of the ocean, mighty efforts were made to produce a remedy which would benefit man and women in certain ailments, more common today than they were fifty years ago. The troubles we refer to are nervous debility, sleeplessness, headaches, morosesess, melanchotia, tired brain, together with their dreaded followers, dyspepsia and indigestion. Remedies without number have been introduced under various names, each one trumpeted forth as the best. Suffering humanity, however, was never permanently benefitted until that great discovery of Prof. Phelps—Paine's Celery Compound—was given to the world. It is true that for a time its use was somewhat restricted and slow; but as soon as its advantages, its power, its great efficacy became known to all thinking and intelligent people, it at once rushed to the front; and by its use the great desire of all sufferers has been more than realized. It has in every case raised the weak and nervous sufferer to health and strength. It has given an assurance of new life to the despondent and morose sufferer; and spread joy, peace and pleasure in its train. Paine's Celery compound is in very truth the consummation and completion of medical skill, and must ever prove mankind's great benefactor.

A Great Block of Granite.

What is believed to be the largest single piece of granite ever started at the blast has been moved from its original bed in Rogers' quarry, at Quincy, Mass. It is twenty-five feet wide, twenty feet thick, and seventy feet long. The company has been five years clearing the front of the stone, which is of the finest quality.

WOMAN—A PROBLEM.

To the Editor:—It is difficult to understand why so many women suffer in silence from those diseases peculiar to their sex, when they have at their command a remedy guaranteed to put an end to their suffering and restore them to perfect health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills never fail in cases of functional derangement, irregularities, suppressions, bearing-down pains, weakness, and the many other complaints with which womankind is afflicted. They restore the system, enrich the blood and bring the red and rosy glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. They are equally efficacious from girlhood to old age, and are a boon and a blessing to suffering woman:

Mrs. S. Devine, Petawawa, Ontario, writes: My daughter has been ill for the last two years. She is pale, weak, short of breath with ringing noises in her head, cold hands and feet, and not right. Doctoring all the time and of no benefit. The doctor says her blood has turned to water, and that she is run down very low. After taking four boxes Pink Pills she again writes:—I enclose balance due on Pills. I am well satisfied with them, and I must say that I have got every satisfaction that any person could ask. I can recommend your Pink Pills to anyone that is out of health. The change in my daughter's health and appearance is so wonderful that a great many persons are continually asking me for some of the medicine that cured her, so I wish to take an agency for the sale of your pills in this place.

Mrs. M——M. ——, Brockville, Ont., says: Gentlemen,—My daughter, S ——, was sick for about a year, crying all the time with the pains of her head and eyes. In the morning her eyes and face were all swelled. She was pale and short of breath, with great jumpings of her heart whenever she tried to do anything or walk. Appetite bad or else entirely gone, with a dirty tongue and a bad stomach. She was never properly regular. She took two boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they cured her. She became regular within a month, and she remained so since, and is in the best of health. I can heartily recommend these Pills to all sufferers who are in the miserable condition my daughter was.

These pills are for sale by all dealers, or will be sent post paid, in sealed package, on receipt of price (50 cents a box), by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medical Co., Brockville, Ont.

The cheapest line of boots and shoes in the city are to be found at Carmichael & Patterson's, 35 Johnson street.

WHITE ROCK, B. C.

This Townsite is situated on Semiahmoo Bay, and is the only deep water seaport between the International Bounday Line and Vancouver, B.C. It will probably be the Mainland starting-point of the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway. It is now the outlet for the finest agricultural district in British Columbia.

The C.P.R. has made a survey of a line from Vancouver direct to this point. The Royal City Planing Mills Company has built a substantial wharf here, and has established a lumber yard, which supplies the farmers of this district. A handsome Hotel has been erected and building is going on rapidly. Several influential and far-sighted orporations have acquired large tracts of land surrounding this Townsite.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS
OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW,
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

SUITS TO ORDER
CHEAPER THAN EVER.

Since the formation of a union amongst the tailors in Victoria prices for clothing have advanced to such an extent that people are sending East for their suits. And we don't blame them, either, if they can save from $10 to $20 a suit. We pay union prices simply because we have to; not that we consider it right.

We were paying our men the same wages before union prices were enforced that we paid them ten years ago, when we received from ten to twenty per cent. more for our suits.

We have from ten to fifteen thousand dollars invested in tailoring, and we propose to turn it over at least twice a year, regardless of profits. To do this we will make suits cheaper than we did before we paid high prices for making up. Good Tweed and Serge Suits, $25.

Irish Tweeds, $27, $28, $30 and $32. If any other tailor in town will prove that these goods are not genuine Irish Tweeds we will donate a Thousand Dollars to any charitable institution that he may name.

Black worsted suits $40. You will get the same goods for $48 or $50 elsewhere. We intend to make a specialty of tweed suits for $30; regular price is $35 to $40. We have the store for our other business; it costs us nothing for the tailoring department; we have the stock; we have a first-class cutter, and we have capital enough to run it if we don't make a cent. So now is the time to get cheap suits to order.

We are going through the stock marking everything down. Don't take everything for granted. See our new schedule of prices.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

To-morrow will be the 24th of May, the seventy-second birthday of Queen VICTORIA. It may also be observed in this connection that this year is the fifty-fourth of her reign, a period of years almost unprecedented in the history of monarchs of England, only two having reigned longer, HENRY III and GEORGE III. HENRY reigned fifty-six years, dying at the age of sixty-five. GEORGE III reigned fifty-nine years, dying at the age of eighty-two. Of England's queens, VICTORIA already has reigned the longest. ELIZABETH reigned forty-four years and died at the age of seventy. Queen VICTORIA bids fair to reign longer than any of her predecessors. Her general health is good, even robust, and she is descended of a family noted for longevity. Of all the reigns in English history, posterity, without doubt, will regard that of VICTORIA's as the most fortunate and the most glorious. VICTORIA has had brilliant predecessors. ELIZABETH was a remarkable woman. England woke up intellectually during the Elizabethan period. But VICTORIA's predecessors are remembered chiefly for their blunders and their weaknesses. We see them through the reflected light of the brilliant achievements of their subjects. But VICTORIA will be more fortunate. If we cannot concede to her the remarkable personality of ELIZABETH we may claim for her less vanity and more discretion. As distinguished from her predecessors she has ruled less for herself than for her subjects. The glory of the nation has been her glory, not the glory of herself the nation's glory; and, as the result of this negative policy of rule, England, since 1837, has taken the lead in commerce and manufactures, in art, science and invention. VICTORIA also will be remembered as something more than a discreet ruler, identified with a glorious period of British history. Her domestic virtues will compel admiration. If history furnishes no parallel to the material progress of England, neither does it furnish a crowned head whose private virtues will compare with England's Queen. In this respect the Queen exemplifies the monarch par excellence. She has made it appear that the domestic life of a sovereign may be as simple and as pure as that of the humblest subject. VICTORIA will go down to posterity as one whose whole career, from whatever point of view regarded, is exceptional in a ruler. Long live Queen VICTORIA!

DISINGENUOUS CRITICISM.

The Colonist observes that the TIMES rejoices over the prospect of "Victoria being treated unjustly by the Dominion Government." The Colonist, in this, as in many other things which escape it, deliberately misrepresents the attitude of the TIMES, and only that the public know better, the temptation to retort with more force than politeness would be difficult to resist. The TIMES has asked the Colonist to render an opinion as to the merits of the appropriation for Victoria. The TIMES has asked the Colonist to state which it prefers, the appropriation as it is, or its converse, that is to say, $20,000 for harbor improvements and $6000 for a drill shed. This very simple question, however, the Colonist refuses to answer. Rather than condemn the stupidity of Victoria's representatives, it prefers to traduce the TIMES. This may be journalism, but the public, which knows a thing or two, will not so regard it. There is a probability that Victoria will be remembered in the supplementary estimates. The absurdity of $20,000 for a drill shed and $6000 for harbor improvements is so palpable that even a Tory can see it. But if Victoria is remembered in the supplementary estimates, she may thank the TIMES instead of the Colonist. It is the TIMES that has laid stress on the absurdity of the appropriation. The Victoria representatives cannot afford to have their stupidity widely advertised.

THE POLICE MAGISTRACY.

In view of the fact that the duties of Police Magistrate are onerous and exacting, and withal, require a quality of mind not less judicial than is inseparable from the bench in general, it should seem that in the resignation of the Hon. A. N. RICHARDS the municipality has lost a valuable officer. Mr. RICHARDS not only is a sound lawyer, but the quality of his mind is such as to especially fit him to preside as Police Magistrate. He knows how to temper justice with mercy; how to conserve public interests without harshness. The Council should make an effort to retain his services. The concensus of opinion seems to be that it will make a mistake if it does not. The salary of the Police Magistrate is $1800 per annum, a sum which, a few years ago, was commensurate with the office, but which nowadays is hardly sufficient to make the office desirable to a man of Mr. RICHARDS' ability. If Mr. RICHARDS' services can be secured for $2500 per annum, the sum will be little enough. Cheap men are poor investments. Mr. RICHARDS, as police magistrate, exercises a moral force such as no other man will be able to command. If increase of salary will induce Mr. RICHARDS to again undertake the duties he has performed so faithfully, and so well, it would be false economy not to grant it. In fact, Mr RICHARDS should be asked to name his figure.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Montreal Star, writing on the financial situation, says: "Yesterday our leading banking institution published its annual statement, the principal features of which had been surmised for the past week. The net profits of the year, after deducting charges of management and making provision for all bad and doubtful debts, was as appeared in our issue of yesterday, $844,909.45, the smallest earnings since 1878. As, however, the directors declined to pay a bonus last year, although having a credit of $794,728.85, it is probable that a portion of the heavy losses written off this year belonged to accounts considered somewhat doubtful at the time, and shows that the board acted prudently in declining to reduce its surplus. It is also not improbable that a portion of the bank's losses may have arisen through their foreign transactions or in their dealings with the firm of BARING Bros., and until the statement of the General Manager is made at the annual meeting, it would be rash to conclude that the somewhat disappointing statement is altogether due to the condition of trade in Canada. There has been some grumbling amongst the shareholders at the result of the year's business, but the most fault finding should bear in mind that in a time of considerable commercial depression the bank has paid its ten per cent. dividend, preserved its rest intact, and carried forward to profit and loss account the sum of $429,728.30. The election of Mr. R. B. ANGUS to a seat on the Board is generally regarded with favor, and if he is able to give a considerable portion of his time to the affairs of the Bank, he will be a valuable acquisition to that institution.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Address by Rev. Dr. Carman on John Wesley and His Stirring Career.

FRIDAY EVENING.

Rev. J. F. Betts, president of the conference, occupied the chair, and in a few well-chosen remarks introduced the venerable speaker of the evening, and the following is a summary of Dr. Carman's address:

Dr. Carman said, in his opening remarks, that the Divine policy in building up an empire and reclaiming a rebellious world, seems to be the unfolding of His own economy, and then the revival of His own religion within that economy. The unfolding of this economy can be traced from the outside of the Garden of Eden to the separation of the Jewish people These were great revivals of religion in the work of Moses and Joseph, but especially in Jesus Christ. Christ first put the supernatural into religion and then ascended up on high and sent down the Holy Ghost. So, again, in the lives of the Apostles, and again in the life work of Martin Luther. When Martin Luther seized the truth of "justification by faith" and when that seized him—and the truth must seize a man if he is to be a Christian—it was a glorious revival of religion. So, also, was it a glorious revival of religion when John Knox stirred up Scotland. This grand educational declaration of John Knox had a good deal to do with making Scotland—glorious Scotland—what it is. This revival of religion was again manifested when John Wesley learned, by experience and practically, the grand truths which underlie the system which we reverence.

Dr. Carmen believed we are now in the last economy. Man has now tried almost every kind of religion—tribal, philosophical, etc.—and in this latter dispensation, the age of the gift of the Holy Ghost, meets man's requirements He has seen that God raises up men who have given new and living views of truth, and thus the leaven works on. The progress of this truth and the power of these revivals depends on the Church of God. John Wesley was an example of the kind of man here put forward. A man whose life proved that the revelation of God is for the social and moral information of the world. He would speak this evening of things in the history of the revival called Methodism. First, its history. John Wesley, born 1703, died 1791—he had most of the 18th century; lived in the times of Queen Ann and the Georges, in the time of the most important events of English history. In 1725 at Christ College, in 1729 Holy club at Oxford, and in 1735 missonary to America. He left to convert the the Indians with the question on his lips, "Who shall convert me?" In 1738 he returned to England. In 1739 he opened the foundry in England, opened it to preach the truth. He struggled against opposition and difficulty, although he never complained. Now, contrast with this the Methodist churches of the world. Certainly John Wesley never expected such a result from his humble labors. Never dreamed of the polity that was to send by divine providence its influence to the ends of the earth In 1739, a few people came to him privately to seek light on questions of personal religion. This was the commencement of this class and church organization. Here his financial policy also was begun. The doctor here claimed that even the force of finances must be enlisted if the church is to convert the world. In 1740 John Wesley separated from the Moravians. He found them peculiar in their views; their fanaticisims and peculiar beliefs drove him to separate. In 1744 he summoned his first conference. These matters grew and developed all around him. Preachers gathered and the work organized. Yet John Wesley was particular in his idea of order and church government. He tried to stop John Maxwell from preaching, and would have done so if his brother had not persuaded him otherwise. Some of Dr. Carman's hearers had perhaps seen in the City road Chapel in London, Eng., the table around which John Wesley assembled his first Conference. He traced the growth of the Kingdom of God up through the missionary enterprise to its Colleges and educational enterprises of the Church, like to the growth of the grass through the blade and bud and blossom and flower. The Kingdom of God must include these in its pall of influence, or it will fail to bear the best fruit. The work of the Church must not be stopped for lack of funds and resources. How gnarled has been the Church of God because of some slight hindrance or obstruction stopping its advance. The whole life of John Wesley is a ponder upon these comments. After this first Conference emigration spread to to this country, and John Wesley sent his men on to this continent. Here Dr. Carman spoke of the influences of womanhood on the early history of Methodism, both in England and America. In 1784 there was a remarkable crystallization both in England and America. John Wesley ordained men for the extension of his work, though he would not call them ministers, nor his preaching places churches. In 1784 all the preaching houses of England were held in trust by John Wesley. In the wise Providence of God, the "legal hundred" was organized, one board holding in trust all the Methodist Church property in England. In connection with this event some stranger things happened. John Wesley and John Whitfield preached in the open air, but their followers said "you must not preach out-doors." This separated some grand enthusiastic preachers from the primitive body. In that year then Methodism in America was organized. It was wisdom that ordained Thomas Coke to establish Methodism across the waters. Now he would give his hearers who are fond of Constitutional History a parallel, viz. The Constitutional Government of England, and that of the Methodist Episcopal Church of America.

In 1791 John Wesley died. We must now deal with some of the peculiar doctrines of Methodism. He would report his statement of yesterday that he loved and revereneed the teachings of other churches. He quoted some instances of what he meant, and showed how in all churches there are certain fundamental principles which make up a common Divinity. Some of these fundamental traits are even embodied in pagan religions. In some of the more modern systems, such as Presbyterianism, the common ground is broader and greater. But he would speak of the peculiar doctrines of our church. Perhaps our differences depend a good deal on an experimental realization of these doctrines. But when he speaks of experimental realization, he touches a doctrine which is largely peculiar to Methodism. As an instance of this he cited the doctrine of sinfulness and total depravity. He distinguished clearly between the general and the personal confession of sinfulness, and there is no use talking about knowing anything about your salvation until you know something about the other thing. Man can and must have a clear conception of his guilt, uncleanness and necessity. These three make up conviction before God. Again, the great thing which our church teaches is that a man can know his sins are forgiven. On this question the doctor said the bible has neither charity nor mercy. The teaching of God's word is that God's spirit comes to man with infallible knowledge of this fact.

These, then, are the peculiar doctrines the Methodist Church proclaims. And when we reach this point we have made way for another of the teachings which gradually dawned upon John Wesley, viz., the doctrine of entire satisfaction. A man may not only know his sins forgiven, but may be completely holy, and in that his justification from sin he is put on probation for spiritual, actual, personal and experimental holiness. He would not undertake to live a life according to man's ideas of perfect holiness, but under the economy of the holy spirit he could live up to the bible idea and teachings of perfect love. We have been preaching these doctrines. Perhaps others had preached these same truths under other titles, but call it what you will, only preach it. We will not study far until we shall find that these doctrines are the great missionary doctrines. If we are to wait till ritual or dogma convert the world it will never be enlivened. But these are the great doctrines that shall move the world even to its heathen extremities. He must now speak of Methodist usages, the good and proper tests of membership obtaining in our church. He emphasized the necessity of drawing the lines closely in this respect. What is the use of having a church teaching a religion of spiritual power, unless we practice what we teach. He discussed the relation of the Methodist chuch to such amusements as dancing and card-playing, and said that while his foot is as nimble as any, it is a moral impossibility for him as a Christian and consecrated man to go into worldly amusements. He believes, by the power of the Holy Ghost in a pure heart and life. The doctor spoke of the legislative and governing bodies of the Methodist church and elaborated their excellency. (At this point the electric lights went out and the doctor consented to proceed but stipulated there should be no kissing among the young people.) He drew a contrast between loyalty to our parliament and the empire and loyalty to the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ. To be true Christian men and women we must make the kingdom of Christ flush with rich blood. Make it the grandest thing in the whole world. We must be true to our kingdom, true to our church polity and economy and to the principles and powers which have swelled the number in the service of our master and if true to these things there is nothing before us but victory.

A burst of applause greeted the close of the doctor's remarks.

Caught in a Rut's.

A frequent source of accident is found in shafting. Great care should be used and a supply of Hagyard's Yellow Oil kept on hand in case of wounds, bruises, sprains, burns or scalds. It is the promptest pain reliever obtainable.

An Extra Trip.

The steamer City of Kingston will leave this evening at her usual time for the Sound ports, returning at 4.30 to-morrow afternoon with excursionists for Monday's celebration.

The Queen of the Air.

The brilliant aerial Queen, Miss Lavallee, will dress at the Victoria Gardens and proceed thence to the scene of her daring exploit of crossing the Gorge, hanging by her teeth from the tight rope. After her performance she will return to the Gardens and perform some fresh wonders on the trapese.

A Close Call.

About 8 o'clock last evening a young man named Munro, who works on one of the small steamers in the harbor, had a narrow escape from drowning. He was out in a leaky canoe, which filled and began to sink. He fell out before it had done so, and after a ducking succeeded in reaching it again, and clinging on until two boys who had seen him from shore rescued him.

Cordially Invited.

Everything around the firehalls looks neat and orderly to-day, the men having gone to work to make the engines, etc., look bright. The regular men donned their new suits, and with the rest of the house look bright and pleasant. Visitors are cordially invited to call on the boys and have a look at the city's arrangements for the prevention of fire.

Another Man Retired.

The Victoria Athletic Club seems to be in the track of misfortune this year. They've lost the snake, Willie Braden, and now they must add to the retired list G. H. Marsh, one of the tumblers. Marsh, who works at Sehl's factory, came into contact with a band saw yesterday and had his face so badly cut that he will be unable at least to take part in the exhibition Monday.

St. John's Church Organ.

Mr. C. A. E. Harriss, the well-known organist of the charming church of St. James, Montreal, was in town a couple of evenings since, arranging for the appearance of the boy soprano Frederick Williams, at the Pandora avenue Methodist church on June 4th. At the same time Mr. Harriss arranged to give the opening recital of St. John's organ on June 2nd and 3rd.

The Warspite can be Docked

It was stated recently on the authority of the Naval and Military Review, that the Warspite had developed such structural defects that she could not be docked at Esquimalt. Capt. Devereaux, dock master, however, says that the Warspite can be docked here without any blocking, etc., and if required we can stow away a vessel 130 feet in length along with the Warspite.

Walter Bowen, Chief of Police Thos. Delaney. There are also the members of the base ball club, and Geo. Starret, E. E. Hickman, H. M. Hammond, L. R. Rotschild, and J. W. Lyons, editor of the breezy Leader.

Cleanliness Next to Godliness.

The supreme thing in a house after a good kitchen and a good cook, is a good, well lighted bath-room, with a large, roomy bath. Porcelain baths are becoming very popular just now, and the solid handsome ones manufactured by Twyford in England, and imported only by Braden & Stamford, Fort street, are the best article. Quite a number have found their way into the fine new homes now being built.

Dead in the Well.

Fred McNiell, the hackman, who has been missing for some days was last evening found dead in a well at Cedar Hill.

Coroner Morrison this morning impannelled a jury and held an inquest on the body, and after hearing the evidence returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased committed suicide while temporarily insane.

Professional Pickpockets.

Provincial Police Captain Langley has received notice of the fact that three professional pickpockets are here from the East, and warns visitors and residents to be on the look out. The shell game men have an ingenious device for plying their trade. It is a stiff cardboard vest, which can be let down table fashion. When the police officer approaches, the table springs back into place, and the wily sleight-of-hand man moves on.

Keep the Course Clear.

Captain R. Broderick, the veteran starter, of the regatta races, hopes that masters of passenger barges and steamers will, during the races, hug the shore going up or down, and thus interfere as little as possible with the contestants. Last year a deal of trouble was caused by steamers blocking the course during some of the best races. Capt. Broderick has suggested that if the masters of the barges would be guided by the starting gun, and stop at the bridge until the race was over, much trouble would be avoided.

Another Drowning Accident.

In several chapters of accidents which have attended the last two days, is one coming from the vicinity of Parson's bridge. It seems three men, John Bride, Herbert Ellion and Edward ——, went to bathe in a place known as Peatt's point, about three miles beyond Parson's bridge, this morning. Bride undressed quickly and swam across before the others, but, possibly from the cramps, he threw up his hands and shouted for help. His companions hastened to his assistance, but too late; he had disappeared, and the water was so thick as to render any search useless. Officer James Hunter proceeded from the city to drag for the body.

The Esmeralda Carries the Boodle.

A recent San Francisco dispatch says: Captain Scott, of the British steamer West Indian, believes that the Chilian steamer Esmeralda, now at Acapulco, is a treasure ship. "When I was in Chili," he said, "a few months ago, and gave a large bond that none of the cargo of my steamer should get into the hands of the congressional or insurgent party. I was informed by a wealthy merchant of Corefel that months before the war broke out it was looked for, and besides hoarding large supplies of coal in bunkers on the islands off the Chilian coast, over $10,000,000 in gold and silver was collected and placed on board the Esmeralda, after the war broke out, for safe keeping. That vessel is, without doubt, the treasure ship of the fleet, and the sinews of war of the congressional part."

Frank Campbell's Corner Travelling.

One of the features of the celebrations, and one which will be highly appreciated by lovers of the fragrant weed, is to be undertaken at the sole expense of Frank Campbell. Mr. Campbell will have an exhibition on wheels in the shape of specimens of the fruit made from the tobacco plant, and smokers will find the choicest cigar, cigarette or old cut plug just there. This travelling cigar store will be at the Hill to-morrow and Sunday and will visit the scene of the regatta on Monday. It will be known as Frank Campbell's Travelling Cigar Corner, and will be suitably decorated. Included in the exhibition will be a tame white rat, which is trained to do all sorts of tricks. It is the property of Jones & Stephenson of the Pritchard House. Frank promises that his corner abroad shall in every respect be as popular as the old and widely known one at home on the corner of Government and Yates streets. 2t

Reception.

Among the visitors in this city to take part in the celebtation are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Burbank, of Tacoma. The lady and gentleman are guests at the Revere House, Pandora street. Last evening Mrs. E. V. Mugridge gave a reception to them at her residence. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Munro, Miss Lyons, of San Francisco; Miss Kate Burnes, Mr. W. Burnes, Mr. Kenzie, T. B. Macabe, W. G. McKenzie, Miss Ella Beaven, Mr. F. White, Miss Goodacre, Miss L. Stafford, D. McKillop, G. B. Ellison, of Cleveland, Ohio; and Mr. William Moore, of New York. Mr. William Burnes kindly officiated at the piano and a very pleasant evening was spent by the merrymakers. At midnight a splendid repast was served and the happy party continued until the "wee small hours." Everyone present returned home well pleased with the kindness of Mrs. Mugridge, who has been very hospitable to the visitors during their stay in the city.

Juanita Badly Shaken.

Last evening a number of Indians brought into the harbor the sealing schooner Juanita. She bore every evidence of having had exceedingly rough treatment. Her deck cabin was gone, and the fittings were lying on the deck in a confused mass of debris. In the forecastle lay her first and second officers, Capt. Lorenz and the mate James Henderson, together with three others of the ship's company, who were all suffering from cuts, bruises and burns. It seems that on Monday last the captain and several men were engaged filling cartridges, and the captain fitted some of them to the rifle. All of a sudden one of the cartridges exploded, the bullet striking a keg of powder and igniting it, and the result was that the stern of the schooner was almost entirely blown out. Dr. Milne attended the wounded men, and arranged to have them taken to the Marine hospital, where they are now, and doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. The schooner was brought in by George McDonald and three Indians.

A Splendid Vehicle.

The new hose and exercise wagon built by Mr. Thos. McLaughlin, at his factory on Yates street, for the Victoria Fire Department, was this morning handed over to the city and it is without doubt the handsomest and best built vehicle of its kind in the city. The brass work is put on and finished as well as it could have been done in the large factories of the east. As a matter of fact the best way to describe it is to say that it is as near perfect as possible. A good gong is under the dash board which will warn parties for blocks. The wagon is to be used as an exercise, hose and supply carrier and a more convenient one it would be hard to find. It will carry 1000 feet of cotton hose in the body while there are handy boxes for tools, nozzles, etc. The hose lays in the bottom of the wagon and draws out as easily as off a wheel. Several wide steps on the rear of the wagon are for the accommodation of the men. With this and the new one-horse hose reel now on the way from Toronto Victoria will have the best fire paraphernalia on the coast. There are also several places reserved for hand chemical machines.

A Grand Musical Festival.

The congregation of the Pandora avenue Methodist church are extremely fortunate in securing the talents of two such artists as the wonderful boy soprano Master Frederick Williams, and the gifted Montreal organist Mr. C. A. E. Harriss. Mr. Harriss is said in several respects, particularly that of pedalling, to be the equal of Frederick Archer. These two will give a recital at the above church on June the 4th. Mr. Harriss, as the organist of St. James church, Montreal, is know all over Eastern Canada and the States as a man of rare musical taste, and a composer of some good works. The following is the programme:

A Lawyer Abuses a Magistrate and is Sent to Jail for Contempt.

The election protest against the return of A. W. Ross, Conservative member for Lisgar, Man., was dismissed by the full court.

R. B. Angus and Duncan McIntyre have purchased 25 tickets in the grand Montreal Derby sweep, and have presented them to the St. Andrew's home.

Two court scenes are the talk of the city of St. John, N.B. In one case, in which the Opposition leader, Mr. Hannington, and Attorney-General Blair were engaged as counsel, the former threatened to slap the latter's face, and the judge had to interfere to prevent a conflict. In the other, lawyer George A. Davis so abused Magistrate Ritchie that the latter committed him to jail for 24 hours for contempt.

Delegate Morine arrived at St. Johns, Nfld., yesterday from London. He is credited by Premier Whiteway to explain to the Newfoundland Legislature the requirements of the draft bill to temporarily enforce the modus vivendi. Morine says that if this measure is not passed by the colony, Lord Knutsford will certainly attempt to push his bill through the Imperial Parliament. In that event, the delegates hope it would be defeated with the aid of the Liberals, but the chances are so slight that Morine is determined to do his best to induce the Legislature of Newfoundland to pass the bill promised by the delegates, as the lesser of the two evils.

COACHING TRIP IN THE ENGLISH LAKE REGION.

Glorious Feasts for Eye and Heart in the Grandest Portion of "Wordsworth's Land"—From Keswick to Windermere on the Box of an Umbrian Coach.

[Special Correspondence of the TIMES.]

WINDERMERE, England, May 12.—The conventional trip taken through the lake district is either after arrival by rail at its southern headquarters, Windermere, by coach north through the heart of the region to Keswick, or on arrival by rail at Keswick, over the same grand highway by coach south to Windermere. Thus tourists, and particularly American tourists, who wish to make the best use of their hours, are enabled to secure a very good general idea of the district, and certainly look upon that portion richest in associative interest—while viewing its finest lakes, loveliest vales and loftiest mountains—by an expenditure of but one day's time.

You are at Keswick. If you have "booked" at least three days in advance, have paid for two fares besides your own, and have privately consulted with stipendary modifications the driver and guard as to the most favorable measures for viewing the region, you can secure your seat on the box of the most popular "going out" coach at 9 in the morning, the envy and glares of the remainder of the "fares," whom you find represent almost every civilized nationality, Americans and Germans predominating. If you ask questions you will also secure the largest number of wide winged "out-and-outers" with which your credence was ever assailed.

The gentle thrill which accompanies this reflection has barely subsided when you have passed beautiful Greta Bridge, and with a sudden turn to the right begin the long ascent of Castle Rigg—"the most windin' one for 'osses o' the stretch," the driver remarks in the single truthful statement you will receive all the way to Windermere. But in this long, slow climb you pass Chestnut Hill, a quaint little, crooked roof house, with its historic sycamore, elm and cherry tree, where Shelley brought his schoolgirl bride, and where they chased each other like happy children about the flower beds, until the stern Cumbrian landlord chased them both away. As the coach is halted at the top of Castle Rigg, 1,000 feet above Keswick, grand and beautiful indeed is that scene behind. The entire vale of Derwent is spread to view.

This dragging way over Castle Rigg is one of the two great heights you will attain by coach on your pleasant journey. The other is at Dunmail Raise, just before you pass into Westmoreland. To your right, the west—for your direction is nearly always due south from Keswick to Windermere—are the seemingly endless fells, odorous with the budding heath, and here and there a mass of color from banks of violets. In front the wide, smooth mountain road winds between overhanging lichened rocks, spans shadowy dingles, and at its apparent end seems to drop sheer into a measureless sea of blue. But now to the left, down, down, as if into some vast witch caldron, the sight descends, and attempts to penetrate the films of mist. Morning is late in reaching St. John's vale. The mist breaks above in feathery rifts where the rays of the eastern sun filter through in filmy streams of gold. Half disclosed behind them are the dark gray outlines of the mighty crag, Castle Rock. You cannot see it clearly, but Scott has so nobly described it in "The Bridal of Triermain," with its

> Wicket of oak, as iron hard,
> With iron studded, clinched and barred,
> And prong'd portcullis, join'd to guard

that you need no better view.

Above this, almost on a level with your coach, which is just beginning the long southern descent of Castle Rigg, lies a huge moving cloud. It is slowly passing down the valley. Suddenly you realize you are above the clouds, for "See the Striding Edge!" is chorused by many of your companions. There it lies, this grim, yellowy black and curved ridge of Helvellyn, majestic monarch of all this grand lake region. It seems across that cloud to be the mighty mural walls of some weird isle, unattainable beyond a sea of mountainous waves. A curve in the road for a few moments hides cloud and mountain top. When Helvellyn again appears, the cloud has been lost in and over the Vale of St. John, and there stands the grand old mountain, forest hung at its base, cleft and scarred above, still higher striped here and there with far descending torrents, like mighty plumes in white, and its broken summit and "Striding Edge" showing thousands of blackened almost vertical furrows in the eternal stone of its peaks and ridges.

But you now have something to do besides gaze on Helvellyn. Your coach is descending the mountain at tremendous speed. The wheel horses are at their best pace, in a trot, and the leaders are fairly at canter. The skids smoke at the wheels. Many a "God bless me!" is ejaculated by old travelers. The ladies stifle little shrieks in vain, and have recourse to occasional alarming "Ouches!" The guard blows his horn furiously. And in a series of bounds, lurches and ricochets, over a good two miles descent, done in less than seven minutes, the foaming horses, the creaky, beclouded coach and gasping passengers come to a grateful standstill at the King's Head inn, Thirlspot, hard by the shores of Thirlmere lake.

The inn is for those who wish to stretch their legs and wash the mountain dust from their throats with mountain dew. You remain in your high seat there, for this valley and its mountain sides have hosts of memory wraiths for the few minutes in which they may appear. Just before you is Dalehead Hall, once full of Southey's mirth and Wordsworth's quiet wisdom. Beside it Dalehead meadows, in which once stood the famous inn-of-call for packers and dalesmen, "Willie How." Across Thirlmere is ancient haunted Armboth hall. You passed in your mad gallop down the mountain side Fisher Place, where Rossetti, at death's door, read the last proofs of his wild, melodious sonnets. To the right is the pony path leading over to outlandish Watendlath, and you can any time go over its weird wild course with Forster and Matthew Arnold by reading the latter's exquisite poem, "Resignation." All this valley was Wordsworth's and Coleridge's daily meeting ground. Down there in Thirlmere is the "Rock of Names," where the names of William Wordsworth, Dorothy, his faithful sister; Mary Hutchinson, afterward his noble wife; Samuel Taylor Coleridge, John Wordsworth and Sarah Hutchinson were chiseled by their own hands. At the valley's edge to the north is all that is left of the Cherry Tree Inn, forever famous because Wordsworth stopped his peasant "Waggoner" there, and at the "village merry night" gave him two or three hours of rousing fun. Under Bull Crags is the ancient "Justice Stone," where in olden times the law was administered. Here and there on highest crags can be seen the "maens" or cairns of old. These and countless other objects will lead you into the mazes of antiquity, while the very names of the inn and valley tell of the Viking Thorold who dwelt here and bequeathed the spot his name forever.

"Time's up!" from the guard breaks in upon all your dreamful musings. In a trice your now cheery companions are in their places. The notes of the coach horn flood the valley. On, on you speed, scaring the sandpipers into the rushes and reeds; and the ring ousels skim scamperingly to the farther shadowy shore; through the valley, past sleeping Thirlmere; up past little Wytheburn church, not as big as your own parlor, and the second smallest house of God in Britain; and then up, up again, as over Castle Rigg, to weird old Dunmail Raise. Here a parting look is had at grim Helvellyn, and the eye lingers lovingly on the pale blue of St. John's vale below the deeper blue of far Blencathra, the whole a miniature image of the pass of Lauterbrunnen. Here, too, is that northern curio of the antiquarians, the Raise itself. It is a huge cairn of pebbles. Tradition says the cairn was made over 1,000 years ago, on the defeat and slaughter of Dunmail, king of Cumbria, in the year 945. Dunmail's dominions were given to King Malcolm of Scotland, and the cairn was left to mark the boundary of the two kingdoms, as it today forms the boundary of the shires of Cumberland and Westmoreland. Into the latter and another noble mountain flanked valley your coach now plunges with smoking horses and wheels.

Comprehensively speaking, it is all the Vale of Rothay. To the east the eye scans the sides and heights of Fairfield, Red Screes and Wansfell, with the far ridges of High Street and Kirkstone behind. To the west rise in weird and precipitous masses the savage pikes of Langdale, and Crinkle Crags and Wetherlam with their sunshiny cones are seen in the far south. Beneath you is the fair and peaceful valley, with gray old Grasmere, by its square church tower, asleep beside the peaceful waters of its beauteous lake—sublimity, beauty, peace everywhere blended as if by a magic wand. See to the right that ancient millwheel. Above it rises mighty Helm Crag, its crowning majestic piles of stone, ever fairy woman, cowled priest, threatening demon, or myriad changing other forms from poets' days to Druid times of old. Stone Arthur,

> The last that parleys with the setting sun, frowns opposite. You rush by Swan inn, whence Wordsworth, Southey and Scott left on their ponies for Helvellyn's ascent, and where there are still delicious legends of how Scott came back of evenings after Wordsworth was safely snoring at Grasmere, to mix the lake water with a few drops of John Barleycorn. As you crash across Rothay's bridge your eye follows the spume and foam of Sour Milk Ghyll, and your thought leaps to the farthest depth of Easdale, which Wordsworth haunted and vowed was all his own. And here, just by the northern edge of Grasmere village, is Allen Bank. Volumes could be written upon its memories—for it is Allen Bank where Wordsworth wrote most of the "Excursion," where De Quincey and "Christopher North" first met, and where Coleridge wrote the "Friend."

But here is Grasmere—Grasmere of ancient "Rushbearing" fame; Grasmere with perhaps the oldest and certainly the quaintest church in England; Grasmere, where the brave old dame soundly walloped the Prince of Wales for "harrying" her sheep; Grasmere, where De Quincey for thirty-seven years retained his Dove Cottage and its maze of books that all the other writers borrowed and never brought back, and where the angel Margaret fought the demon opium, and rescued that wondrous intellect and soul from inconceivable hells of torment; Grasmere, where in old St. Oswald's churchyard sleep Hartley Coleridge and William Wordsworth, and the beauteous Rothay, leaping from sequestering meadows, gives back along the old church wall the deathless songs they sung.

The heart swells and the eyes fill quickly here, and you are glad the fresh relay of horses speeds you so swiftly away. The road lies along the shores of Grasmere. To the west are mountains, mountains everywhere. Half way around the base of bold White Moss, high above your head, is the "Wishing Gate," famous in romance and song. Turning sharply to the left, little Rydal Water, a speck of blue in a now almost level valley, is before you. In that cottage to the left lives a granddaughter of Wordsworth. Swinging into the north and south highway at spanking speed, you come alongside a tiny cottage imbedded in ivy. Nab Scar rises high behind it, like the fir hung hill behind the Alcott cottage at Concord. It is Nab Cottage, and was built nearly three hundred years ago. In it loyal Margaret Simpson, afterward wife of De Quincey, was born, and under its slates and ivies Hartley Coleridge lived and breathed his last.

You can scarcely recall these things before you are passing Rydal. Just a glimpse of the little church is seen, so dense is the foliage here. But you know that up there at the end of that shadowy way, to the right is splendid Rydal Hall, to the left Rydal Mount, where Wordsworth lived for forty blissful years, and that the melodies of the Rydal waterfalls are just behind.

From Rydal through Ambleside to Windermere is one mad rush of your coach, meeting and passing coach and vehicle of every description, tourists of every nationality in every pleasant means of going and coming, and altogether one wild whirl of entrancing associative interest. Here is Elleray, sentineled by its giant sycamore and rife with memories of Professor Wilson. There is Fox How, where lived noble Dr. Arnold. Behind that mass of beech and laurel lived Harriet Martineau, and the sun dial on the fragrant terrace still bears the inscriptive echo of her lofty, life long soul's desire, "Come, light, visit me!" Ambleside, haunted by the wraiths of all these folk and hidden in its mass of foliage and bloom, is whisked behind. And then through an almost unbroken avenue of beeches and sycamore you are whirled along one of the grandest roads in England, with swift glimpses to right and left of mountain, vale, lake and stream; of cottage, hall and hostel old, until, with aching bones, whirling head, hungry stomach and heart athrill for its royal stirring, your coach is brought up with a crash and a bang in front of John Riggs' famous Windermere hostelry. The grateful odors of broiling char (almost as ravishing as those of Thompson's Gloucester "planked shad!") ascend to your eager nostrils, and before your eyes lies one of the sweetest scenes on earth—transcendent Windermere, queen of all the Umbrian lakes, dotted with dreamful sails, and from her silvery shores, upleading the gladdening vision to measureless masses of mountains swathed in emerald and purple and crowned with sunkissed glories, to the high, far horizon line, that hints of but repels the tempests of the thunderous Irish sea.

Burdock Blood Bitters

BANISHES BAD BLOOD.

Bad Blood is responsible for all the Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, Humors and Disfiguring Rashes that are so prevalent, especially in spring. There is a NATURAL FOE TO BAD BLOOD called Burdock Blood Bitters which always conquers, never fails and is recommended by thousands. It searches out and removes all impurities from the smallest pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. In Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Shingles, Tetter, etc., its effects are wonderful.

WHAT THEY SAY.

Two of my children had large sores on their bodies caused by poorness of the blood. They were completely cured by one bottle of B. B. B. MRS. J. PINEL, London East, Ont.

About a year ago I got a running abscess on my neck which made me very weak. B. B. B. cured it and I am strong again. MRS. GEO. L. BINGHAM, Montefiore, Man.

A Faithful Friend.

SIRS,—I have great faith in your Burdock Blood Bitters, and can recommend it for most anything. Two years ago I was troubled with an ulcer on my ankle; having used B. B. B. for bad blood I procured a bottle, and a box of Burdock Healing Ointment; after using three bottles and three boxes I was completely cured and can recommend it everywhere. Yours truly, MRS. WM. V. BOYD, Brantford, Ont.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

THE RING.
CORBETT TALKS.

San Francisco, May 23.—When asked how he felt after concluding the contest and about future fights, Corbett said "I overrated Jackson and underrated myself. Newspapers, and even my best friends kept on telling me that they did not see how I could win against such odds. I therefore went into the ring with entirely too big an opinion of Jackson. I feel satisfied now, in looking back at the fight, that had I it to do over again, I could whip him. To show that I mean business, I am willing to meet Jackson again in three months." Corbett continuing, said: "I shall go East to see the Slavin-Kilrain contest, for I am likely to meet Slavin within a year. If Jackson does not want to fight me, my friends think he and Sullivan ought to settle the Australian championship between them, and then let me fight the winner. That looks to me like a fair proposition. Australia surely can't have two heavy-weight champions. With Sullivan out of the ring, I am now the only man who can lay any proper claim to the American Championship.

DIED.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, Colwood, at 1 o'clock and from Methodist church at 3 o'clock on Sunday, 24th instant.
